AND WELCOME ALL NYC STUDENTS, INCLUDING

English Language Learners | schools.nyc.gov/ELL

An English Language Learner (ELL) is a student who speaks or understands a language other than English and requires support in order to become proficient in the English language. NYC schools offer three program options for English Language Learners: English as a New Language (ENL), Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE), and Dual Language (DL). All schools, at a minimum, offer ENL. Learn more about each program option, the ELL identification process, and your rights as a parent of an English Language Learner on our website.

Students with Disabilities | schools.nyc.gov/SpecialEducation

Every high school is expected to welcome and serve students with disabilities in accordance with students' Individualized Education Programs (IEPs). All high school programs admit general education students and students with disabilities—learn more in Section 4.2. Testing accommodations are provided according to students' IEPs—learn more on our website and in Section 4.5. For students whose IEP recommends District 75 programs, see Section 1.2 and explore program options in Section 11.0 and online with MySchools.

Students with Accessibility Needs | schools.nyc.gov/BuildingAccessibility

The NYC Department of Education is committed to providing students with accessibility needs an offer to a high school program that allows them to access all relevant programs and services. For the most up-to-date information about accessibility, check our website and contact schools directly.

MySchools Tip: Filter for programs at ✓ Fully Accessible or ✓ Partially Accessible schools.

Students in Temporary Housing | schools.nyc.gov/STH

Students in temporary housing may apply to any high school programs, even if they move to a temporary residence outside of NYC. They are not required to submit documentation (including address, proof of age, and immunization records) in order to participate in an admissions process and accept their offer.

Immigrant Families | schools.nyc.gov/SupportingImmigrantFamilies

Every child in New York City has a right to a public school education, regardless of immigration status. By law, children may not be asked to present documentation of immigration status, nor can they be denied admission, registration, or enrollment in school based on immigration status. DOE employees will not ask about a family's status, and if they do learn about immigration status, they must keep it confidential. Public schools are at the center of our democracy and remain safe places for all students, families, and educators.

LGBTQ Students and Families | schools.nyc.gov/LGBTQ

All of our schools welcome and support lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and queer or questioning students, families, and staff. You can apply to single-gender programs based on your gender identity, regardless of sex assigned at birth. A transgender student interested in a single-gender school should ask your school counselor to assist in the application process.

MySchools Tip: Use the search term \bigcirc GSA \bigcirc for a list of schools with a club that supports LGBTQ students.

Students with Children | lyfenyc.org

The Living for the Young Family Through Education (LYFE) program provides free early childhood education and support to children six weeks to four years old for student-parents enrolled in NYC DOE schools.

1.0 KNOW THE PATHS TO HIGH SCHOOL

For most students in New York City, there are two paths to DOE public high schools. This fall, you can take both paths or just one:

- 1. Apply to high school by submitting a high school application. All eighth-grade students should apply.
- 2. Apply to the Specialized High Schools by auditioning and/or taking the Specialized High Schools Admissions Test (SHSAT). This is optional.

Learn about charter schools in Section 1.4.

1.1 Who Can Apply?

All current eighth grade students who live in New York City can apply to high school and the Specialized High Schools this fall for the 2021–2022 school year. First-time ninth grade students (students who are not repeating ninth grade) can also apply to programs with tenth grade seats. Our schools welcome and serve all NYC students—learn more on the facing page.

1.2 Applying to High School

In the fall, access your personalized high school application and submit it online at MySchools.nyc or through a counselor by Friday, December 4, 2020. You can apply to up to 12 programs on your application. In March, you will get your high school offer letter, which will include a high school offer and/or any offer(s) to Specialized High Schools. It will also include information about any programs where you are waitlisted. Public school 8th grade students who do not submit a high school application will get an offer to a nearby high school program with available seats—learn more in Section 9.0.

Admissions for Students in District 75 Special Education Programs

District 75 provides highly specialized instructional support for students with significant challenges, such as Autism Spectrum Disorders, significant cognitive delays, emotional disturbances, sensory impairments, and multiple disabilities. These supports are offered in a wide variety of settings and locations across New York City, including special classes co-located in District 1–32 schools, school buildings where all students have Individualized Education Programs (IEPs), general education classrooms, agencies, hospitals, and at home.

Students enrolled in District 75 programs who are considering a District 1–32 high school can participate in high school admissions. These students should also work with their IEP team to determine whether the recommendation for a District 75 high school program is still appropriate. If the IEP team believes that District 75 continues to be appropriate, the District 75 Placement Office will notify the student of their District 75 high school placement in May or June.

Students Who Are Recommended for District 75 Inclusive Services

District 75 Special Education Inclusive Services are offered in some District 1–32 high schools. Students with disabilities are recommended to receive special education services based on their IEP mandates. Students who are mandated to receive Special Education Inclusive Services from District 75 participate in the general education curriculum at a District 1–32 school. Students learn in age-appropriate general education classes, receive instruction from a general education teacher, and participate in school programs with students with and without disabilities. District 75 Inclusive Services are not offered in every District 1–32 high school; please see Section 11.0 for a list of the high schools with these services. In order to be matched to one of the programs at these high schools, students must be recommended to receive these services on their IEPs.

Admissions for Students in ASD Nest, ASD Horizon, or ACES Programs

Students in ASD Nest or ASD Horizon Programs

The Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) Nest Program and the ASD Horizon Program are two different specialized programs in District 1–32 schools that serve certain students with autism who have Individualized Education Programs (IEPs). Both programs are designed to address the needs of students with ASD by strengthening academic and social skills, but each program has different service delivery models and eligibility criteria. Students who are currently in an ASD Nest or Horizon specialized program in middle school should participate in the high school admissions process. If you will be continuing in a high school ASD program, you will be able to list ASD Nest or Horizon programs on your application.

Learn more about these programs at schools.nyc.gov/SpecializedPrograms.

Students in ACES Programs

Academic, Career, and Essential Skills (ACES) Programs are special education classes that support students who are classified with Intellectual Disability (ID) or Multiple Disabilities (MD) and who participate in New York State Alternate Assessment (NYSAA). ACES Programs provide an opportunity to learn academic, work, and independent living skills in a District 1–32 school. Students who are currently in an ACES specialized program in middle school should participate in the high school admissions process. If you will be continuing in a high school ACES program, you will be able to list high school ACES programs on your application.

Learn more about ACES programs at schools.nyc.gov/SpecializedPrograms.

In This Guide

Find a list of District 75 inclusive programs in Section 11.0, and a list of ASD Nest, ASD Horizon, and ACES programs in Section 12.0 of this admissions guide. You can also see if any high school offers these programs on its school page in Sections 10.1–10.5.

Admissions for Students (Aged 16-21) Who Are Behind on Credits

Transfer schools are academically rigorous high schools designed to serve students who are 16–21 years old and want to graduate. If you have dropped out of school or fallen behind on credits, a transfer school can help you get back on track toward graduation. Some schools accept students who are 15 years old, and many transfer schools are flexible about who they admit. Most transfer high schools hold individual admissions interviews. Some transfer high schools are part of the high school application process. If you are interested in a transfer high school, please reach out directly to the school to learn more. You can also visit one of our Referral Centers, which are located in each borough, for more information and counseling. Learn more about transfer schools and other options, as well as Referral Center locations, at schools.nyc.gov/Enrollment/Other-Ways-to-Graduate.

In This Guide

Find a complete list of transfer schools and programs in Section 13.0 of this admissions guide. Transfer high schools that are part of the high school application are also in Sections 10.1–10.5.

In MySchools

Explore transfer schools and programs online with MySchools. Click on the More Filters button and under "Admissions Method," check the box that says Transfer.

1.3 Applying to the Specialized High Schools

Apply to one or more of the nine Specialized High Schools by taking a test or auditioning this fall. Register to test and/or audition by October 21, 2020. There are two types of Specialized High Schools:

- Audition: admission is based on your audition and academic review
- Testing: admission is based on your Specialized High Schools Admissions Test (SHSAT) score

Audition School

One Specialized High School, Fiorello H. LaGuardia High School of Music & Art and Performing Arts, requires students to register for auditions and then audition for up to six programs: Dance, Drama, Fine & Visual Art, Instrumental Music, Technical Theater, and Vocal Music.

- Register for your audition(s) online at MySchools.nyc or through your current school counselor by the October 21, 2020 deadline. Then audition on your scheduled date and time.
- Offers to these programs are determined by applicants' auditions. LaGuardia High School also reviews applicants' academic records and attendance information from the prior school year.

Tip

Learn more about how to register and prepare for your LaGuardia audition(s) in Sections 6.0-7.0.

Testing Schools

Eight of the Specialized High Schools require students to register for and take a test—the Specialized High Schools Admissions Test (SHSAT)— to qualify for admission. These high schools are:

The Bronx High School of Science High School of American Studies at Lehman College

The Brooklyn Latin School Queens High School for the Sciences at York College

Brooklyn Technical High School Staten Island Technical High School

High School for Math, Science and Stuyvesant High School

Engineering at City College

Register for the SHSAT online at MySchools.nyc or through your current school counselor by the October 21, 2020 deadline. Then take the test on your scheduled date and time.

 Offers to these schools are determined by applicants' SHSAT scores, the order applicants list these schools on their test answer sheets, and seat availability. These schools do not consider students' academic records.

Tip

Learn more about this admissions process, including how to register for the SHSAT, in Sections 6.0 and 8.0.

Click here to the NYC Guide to the SHSAT to learn more about the test and try practice questions.

1.4 Charter Schools

Charter schools are free public schools that are open to all New York City students and that operate independently from the Department of Education (DOE). Instead, charter schools operate under a performance contract, or charter, issued by a New York State authorizer. Charter schools are accountable for meeting specific academic goals and often try different approaches to ensure their students meet these goals.

Charter schools have a separate high school application process. If you would like to apply to high school at a charter school, please contact that school directly to learn about their enrollment and admissions. Note that some charter high schools only admit students who attend eighth grade at one or more partner charter middle schools. Any student eligible for admission to a DOE public school is eligible for admission to a public charter school. For a list of charter high schools by borough, turn to Section 14.0 of this guide. Visit schools.nyc.gov/Charters or call 212-374-5419 for more general information.

2.0 ATTEND HIGH SCHOOL EVENTS

Attending fairs and open houses is a great way to learn about schools and ask questions. Visit schools.nyc.gov/High for specific event dates, times, and locations.

Please note: At the time of this book's publication (spring 2020), school buildings are currently closed. Check our website or contact schools directly for the most up-to-date information on any virtual or in-person events, including our high school fairs.

Tip

Be sure to write your contact information clearly on sign-in sheets at events so schools can reach out to you with updates.

2.1 High School Fairs

Attend the high school fairs on October 3-4 and October 17-18, 2020. (Please note that dates and locations are subject to change.) Each event offers workshops on high school and Specialized High Schools admissions, as well as the chance to meet with representatives from schools from across the borough. Interested in schools in multiple boroughs? You can attend fairs for as many boroughs as you like. Visit schools.nyc.gov/High for the most up-to-date information on when and where each fair will be held:

2.2 School Visits

Visiting a school is a great way to see if it might be a good place for you. It's also a helpful way to see how long the trip is from home. Contact schools directly to find out if they have special events, virtual or in-person open houses, or student-guided tours. You can also find specific schools' open house or information session dates in the Open House Calendar at schools.nyc.gov/High. This calendar includes Specialized High School open houses.

When visiting schools or attending fairs, remember to ask questions—use the activity that follows as a guide.

ACTIVITY

Ask Questions at High School Events

When you speak with a school representative at an admissions event, try to ask one question from each box below. Create your own questions to learn more about a school.

Your Questions:

School Culture	What time does the day start and end? How do you support students looking for extra help with their classes? Are there opportunities to be involved in the community?
Ninth Grade	What time do students usually finish their clubs and activities? How does your school communicate with new students the summer before ninth grade?
Courses	What are your most popular classes? What language courses do you offer? What makes your school's classes special?
College and Career Readiness	How do you support students towards college? What colleges do students from your school usually go to? Why? What CTE certification programs does your school offer?
Admissions	Does your program have admissions priorities? If so, what are they? For screened programs: What are your selection criteria? Are there any extra steps I should take to be considered?
Other Interests	What else does your school offer (sports, clubs, arts, music, community service, internships, etc.)?

Community Schools

Community Schools help students find their passion by integrating academics, health, youth development, expanded learning (such as afterschool and summer programs), and family engagement. By bringing schools, families, and community partners together to create new opportunities, Community Schools foster collaboration within a community so that students are ready and able to learn, and graduate high school prepared for college and success.

MySchools Tip: Use the search term community school Q to find schools that offer these services.

Early College

Early college high schools blend a rigorous college-prep curriculum with the opportunity to earn up to two years of college credit toward a liberal arts Associate degree while in grades 9–12 at the high school level, at no cost to students. These schools maintain a partnership with a college to provide academic and social supports to help students develop the knowledge and skills needed to succeed in college. Find more information on a school's early college degree course offerings on its MySchools page, or contact the school directly.

MySchools Tip: Use the search term Early College Q for a list of these schools.

Early College and Career Schools Grades 9–14

Early college and career schools, also called NYC P-TECH Grades 9–14 schools (Pathways in Technology Early College High Schools), offer a six-year program where students can earn a high school diploma and a no-cost, career-specific Associate degree (or up to two years of transferable college credits), plus gain valuable workplace skills. As both an early college and a Career and Technical Education (CTE) school, each school has a specific science, technology, engineering, or math-based career theme for its rigorous academic and CTE program. Students participate in career exploration activities with the school's lead industry partners, including work-based projects and internships. Students may also begin taking tuition-free college classes as early as tenth grade at the partnering college and have until the fourteenth grade to complete the college credits towards an Associate degree. Through these partnerships, graduates are prepared to begin their careers and continue their postsecondary education. Find more information on a school's career theme and early college degree pathway on its school page in this directory, or contact the school directly.

MySchools Tip: Use the search term 9-14 Q for a list of these schools.

Performance Assessment Schools

Instead of requiring that students pass certain Regents exams, these schools' graduation requirements include performance assessments in major subject areas. Assessments involve extensive research projects, presentations, and defense of student work. These schools have a waiver from the New York State Education Department permitting them to award diplomas to students who pass all required courses and performance assessments, in addition to the following:

- New York Performance Standards Consortium schools require students to pass the English Language Arts (ELA) Regents and complete performance assessments in science, social studies, and math.
- Other performance assessment schools require students to pass the ELA and math Regents.

Schools for Newly Arrived Students

Schools for newly arrived students serve students who are new to the country. All have requirements regarding home language, English proficiency, and/or the amount of time a student has lived in the United States.

3.3 Understanding School Information

Each high school has a brief listing in this admissions guide and a more detailed page in the online MySchools directory. You can use this information to learn if a school might be a good place for you. Consider how a school's offerings line up with your interests. Are its classes and activities ones that you enjoy, do well at, or would like to explore? Note that all the information in a school listing refers to information from the previous year and may change for the 2021–2022 school year. Contact schools directly for the most up-to-date information. Use the pages that follow to learn how to read a school listing in this guide and a school page in the MySchools directory. Please note that the school used in these examples, Chambers Street High School, is not a real school.

3.4 Finding Programs

When you apply to high school, you are not just applying to schools—you are applying to programs. Think of a program as a doorway to get into the school. If a school has multiple programs, you can apply to more than one program at that school. For instance, a school might have an arts program and a technology program; if you were interested in both dancing and computer science, you might apply to both programs at the same school. They would count as two different program choices on your application.

This guide's school listings and MySchools' directory pages (MySchools.nyc/schools/high-school) include program information. Browse these sections to find programs that interest you. Program information can also help you figure out your chances of getting an offer to a specific program—learn how in Section 4.0.

Interest Areas

All New York City public high school programs offer a broad liberal arts education. Additionally, most programs focus on up to two interest areas, such as architecture or science and math, and they may offer additional courses in that subject or field. Many but not all programs' interest areas are also part of their names. You can find a program's interest area(s) in its school listing in this guide and in MySchools.

Schools offer programs in the following 22 interest areas:

Animal science Environmental science Performing arts/visual art & design

Architecture Film/video Project-based learning
Business Health professions Science and math

Communications Hospitality, travel, and tourism Teaching

Computer science & technology Humanities & interdisciplinary* Visual art & design

Cosmetology IROTC Zoned*

Culinary arts Law & government Engineering Performing arts

* All programs include courses across a wide range of subjects. Programs listed as "humanities & interdisciplinary" or "zoned" do not emphasize a particular interest area.

MySchools Tip: Use any of the interest areas, such as health professions Q, as a search term to find programs related to this interest area. You can also try more specific words like nursing Q.

3.5 Program Eligibility

Some programs are only open to students who live or go to school in a certain borough, who speak a home language other than English, or who meet other eligibility requirements. For instance, a program's eligibility could be "Open only to Bronx students or residents." This means that if a student lives and attends school in a borough other than the Bronx, they cannot list this program on their application.

In This Guide

Some programs with eligibility criteria are marked as follows:

- (F) Open only to female-identified students
- M Open only to male-identified students
- Open only to English Language Learners who have lived in the US less than a certain amount of time

In MySchools

Click on a program to display its eligibility requirements. Once you're logged in to your MySchools account, you'll only be able to add programs to your application that you are eligible to attend.

diT

A program may have more specific eligibility requirements than the larger school. If no eligibility is listed, all students can apply.

LEARN HOW STUDENTS GET OFFERS FROM THE HIGH SCHOOL APPLICATION

How can you know your chances of getting an offer from a specific program? It helps to start by learning how offers are made. Students get offers to high school programs based on a few key factors. You can control some of these factors, while others are aspects of the programs themselves. Learning about these factors can help you know your chances of getting an offer to each program of interest. This page and the next provide an overview—read more about each factor in Sections 4.1–4.5.

AT A GLANCE | HOW STUDENTS GET OFFERS

Your application choices

The number of program choices you add to your application AND the order in which you place them matter! This is a factor you can control. Only apply to programs you are truly interested in attending. Add 12 choices to your application in your true order of preference. Then submit your application.

Seat availability

The number of applicants to a program compared to the number of available seats it has helps show how in demand (or popular) a program is.

Your priority group for a program

Some programs give admissions priority to specific groups of applicants before others, such as to students who live in a specific district or borough. Applicants in a program's priority group 1 will be considered first. Then if seats are still available, applicants in that program's priority group 2 will be considered next, and so on. Learn which priority group you're in for each program. You may be in different priority groups for different programs.

Continues on next page

Program's admissions method

For some programs, applicants get offers based on random selection. For other programs, applicants are evaluated based on a program's selection criteria and then ranked based on that evaluation.

For Programs That Use Random Selection

Priority group 1

Priority group 2

For programs that use random selection, students get offers based on their randomly assigned numbers. Let's look at a sample program that uses random selection:

This program has four seats and seven applicants. Because there are more applicants than seats, not all of these applicants will get an offer to this program.

- First, applicants in priority group 1 get an offer in numerical order. Since there are three applicants in priority group 1, all of them get an offer.
- Then, applicants in priority group 2 get an offer in numerical order. Since there is just one remaining seat after offers were given to applicants in priority group 1, only one student from priority group 2—the student who is first in numerical order within that group—gets an offer.
- Now all seats in this program are filled. Based on their randomly assigned numbers, the remaining applicants in priority group 2 do not get an offer to this program. These applicants are then considered for offers at the next program on their application. These applicants will be automatically on the waitlist for this program. To learn more about waitlists, see Section 9.2.

For Programs That Rank Applicants

Priority group 1

Priority group 2

For programs that rank applicants, school staff evaluate students for admission based on the program's selection criteria, such as academic records, interviews, and auditions. Then school staff assign a ranking number to applicants based on that evaluation.

Let's look at a sample program that uses selection criteria to evaluate and rank applicants:

Seven students applied to this program, which has only four available seats. Five of these applicants were ranked. The other two (marked with red x's above) were not ranked. Notice that there are still more ranked applicants than seats, so not all ranked applicants will get an offer to this program.

- First, ranked applicants in priority group 1 get an offer in ranking number order. Since there are two ranked applicants in priority group 1, both get an offer.
- Then, ranked applicants in priority group 2 get an offer in ranking number order. Since there are two remaining seats after offers were given to ranked applicants in priority group 1, the applicants who are first and second in ranking number order from priority group 2 get an offer.
- Now all seats for this program are filled. The remaining ranked applicant in priority group 2 does not get an offer to this program. This student is then considered for offers at the next program on their application. This student will be automatically on this program's waitlist. To learn more about waitlists, see Section 9.2.

Tip

To learn more about how offers are made, watch the videos at schools.nyc.gov/High. Learn about waitlists and waitlist offers in Section 9.2 and online at schools.nyc.gov/Waitlists.

4.1 Your Application Choices

The number of program choices you add to your application and the order in which you place them matter! Creating a balanced application can increase your chances of receiving an offer to a program you want to attend. A balanced application should have:

- 12 program choices, ANY of which you'd be happy to attend. There is no way to guarantee an offer to your first-choice program. With more than 700 high school program options to choose from, we invite you to explore programs in MySchools to find 12 choices that you are truly interested in and list them on your application. Finding more programs that interest you and adding them to your application increases your chance of getting an offer to a program you want. Listing fewer than 12 choices lowers your chance of getting an offer to a program of your choice.
- Program choices in your true preference order. Always place the programs on your application in your true order of preference, with your favorite program at the top as #1. You will be considered for your first-choice program first. If you don't get an offer to your first choice, then you will be considered for your second-choice program as though it were your first choice, and so on.
- A mix of admissions methods. If you're going to apply to any screened or audition programs, also find some programs that use the educational option and open admissions methods to include on your application.
- Not just high-demand programs. High-demand programs are those that have many more applicants than available seats. More applicants per seat means a lower chance of getting an offer. If you apply to any high-demand programs (10 or more applicants per seat), also find some programs that have fewer applicants per seat.
- You are in the first priority group for some programs. Different programs have different priority groups. Not being in the first priority group for a program means a lower chance of getting an offer to that program.

Tip

Always place the programs on your application in your true order of preference, with your favorite program at the top as #1. High schools will not see your application choice order, so they will not know if they are your first or twelfth choice!

4.2 Seat Availability

Another important factor in admissions is a program's seat availability. The number of seats in a program means the number of students it can admit.

General Education and Students with Disabilities

Each program admits general education students and students with disabilities. Your application will show which designation you are in. This is not something you choose.

General Education Students

- For students who receive general education instructional programming.
- For students who receive special education instructional programming for 20% or less of their academic program as indicated on their current IEP.

Students with Disabilities

 For students who receive special education instructional programming for more than 20% of their academic program as indicated on their current IEP.

Special education instructional programming includes Integrated Co-Teaching (ICT) classes, Special Class (SC), and Special Education Teacher Support Services (SETSS). Related services, such as speech, occupational therapy (OT), and physical therapy (PT), are not considered special education instructional programming for the purposes of high school admissions. Please note that students with 504 accommodation plans are not entitled to seats for students with disabilities if they do not have an IEP that states the student also receives instructional programming for more than 20% of their academic program.

Seats for students with disabilities in this guide reflect the percentage of students with disabilities in each borough.

Every high school participating in high school admissions is expected to welcome and serve students with disabilities in accordance with the recommended programs and services listed on their Individualized Education Programs (IEPs). If you currently have an IEP, the IEP team at your high school will review it to ensure that all services and supports you require are provided. Please note that the student-to-teacher ratio in a high school special class is 15:1, a change from the middle school special class ratios. For more information, visit schools.nyc.gov/SpecialEducation.

Seats and Applicants Per Seat: Demand Last Year

A program's demand is how popular it is. You can learn how many seats each program offered last year as well as how many students applied for these seats in this book or with MySchools. Note that all numbers are from last year.

Your Chances—Demand

A program's applicants per seat shows how in-demand or popular the program is—this can help you know your chances of getting an offer from that program.

- If a program has ten or more applicants per seat, it is in high demand. All applicants have a lower chance of getting into a program with 10 or more applicants per seat.
- If a program has four to nine applicants per seat, it is in average demand. Consider more factors to determine your chances of getting an offer. Read on and refer to the graphic in Section 4.0.
- If a program has three or fewer applicants per seat, it is in lower demand. Consider more factors to determine your chances of getting an offer. Read on and refer to the graphic in Section 4.0.

Tip

Consider listing some programs with three or fewer applicants per seat on your application.

Schools Offering 10th Grade Seats in Admissions

Some high schools have seats set aside specifically for students who are starting tenth grade in fall 2021. If you are a current first-time ninth grade student (not repeating ninth grade), you can apply to a program or programs at these schools.

If a program has 10th grade seats available, this will be noted on its MySchools page and in its school listing in Sections 10.1–10.5.

Select | More Filters > | to filter for schools that have 10th grade seats available.

4.3 Admissions Priorities

A program's admissions priorities determine the order in which applicants are considered for offers to that program. Applicants are considered in groups.

- All applicants in priority group 1 will be considered first.
- Then, if seats are still available, applicants in priority group 2 will be considered next, and so on.

Admissions priorities are only used if a program has more applicants than available seats.

In the example below (shown in both Admissions Guide and MySchools formats), current eighth grade students at the school are in the first priority group (1) for this STEM program. All students from this group who apply will be considered first for offers. Last year, 60% of offers to this program went to continuing students.

Bronx students and residents are in the second priority group (2) for this program; they will be considered next for offers. Last year, 40% of offers went to this group of applicants.

Lastly, all other New York City residents (applicants from all other boroughs) are in the third priority group (3), and will be considered for any remaining seats. Last year, no applicants from outside of the Bronx received offers to this program.

In This Guide

You can look up any program's admissions priorities in its school listing, as well as learn the percentage of offers that went to applicants in priority group 1 last year. If a program does not list admissions priorities, this means it makes offers to all NYC residents without prioritizing any groups. For example, Chamber Street High School's Theater Arts program does not use admissions priorities to make offers, but the STEM program (as shown below) does.

In MySchools

You can find a program's admissions priorities on its page in MySchools. Click on the + My Chances tab and look for the Priority Groups section, which lists a schools' admissions priorities in order. Your priority group for this program will be bolded and include the words YOUR GROUP. If a program does not use admissions priorities to make offers, this information appears as:

1. Open to all NYC residents.

Diversity in Admissions

High Schools across New York City are participating in an initiative to increase diversity within their schools. Some schools give an admissions priority to students who are English Language Learners (ELLs), are low-income, or to students from different neighborhoods. The current list of schools participating in diversity pilots is available on our website—learn more at schools.nyc.gov/DiversityAdmissions. Throughout the admissions process, check MySchools for programs' most up-to-date admissions priorities.

Students at Continuing Schools or with Zoned Schools

If your high school application indicates a guaranteed offer to a particular program and you would like to continue at that school, place this program on the application in your order of preference—you do not have to list it first to keep your guarantee. You will receive an offer to this program if you do not receive an offer to a program listed higher on the application. This guarantee would be your continuing school (school that has both middle and high school grades) if you attend one, or your zoned school if you have one and the admissions method is listed as zoned guarantee.

Your Chances—Your Priority Group

Being in the first priority group for a program means you have a higher chance of getting an offer, but your chances also depend on other factors (such as demand and admissions methods—see Sections 4.4 and 4.5). Not being in the first priority group for a program means you have a lower chance of getting an offer to that program.

Tip

Consider applying to at least a few programs where you are in the first priority group—this increases your chances of getting an offer to a program from your application.

Understand Admissions Priorities

Chambers Street School is a continuing school serving grades 6–12. The high school STEM program at this school has the following admissions priorities:

- 4. Priority to continuing 8th grade students—60% of offers went to this group
- 5. Then to Bronx students or residents—40% of offers went to this group
- 6. Then to New York City residents

Help the three students below think about their chances of getting an offer to this program.

4.4 Admissions Methods

Admissions methods are the ways programs make offers to students. Admissions methods also describe what you need to do to be considered for a program. In most cases, all you have to do is list the program on your application.

HIGH SCHOOL ADMISSIONS METHODS

	What You Need to Do	What Do Schools Use for Admissions?
Test	 Schedule the SHSAT Take the SHSAT List the testing Specialized High Schools in your preference order on your SHSAT answer sheet. 	 Your SHSAT scores The preference order of the testing Specialized High Schools from your SHSAT answer sheet Offers are made to students in SHSAT score order.
Audition	☐ Complete any additional requirements, such as an audition or interview.	Schools evaluate applicants based on selection criteria, and rank applicants based on that evaluation. Selection criteria can include: Student's academic record (final report card grades and test scores from the previous school year), if applicable
Screened	Review your academic record against the program's selection criteria ranges, as detailed in MySchools.	 Results from any on-site tasks such as interviews, portfolios, assessments, or auditions Offers are made to ranked students by priority group and in ranking number order.
Educational Option	List the program on your application. Check to see if there are any additional selection criteria in MySchools.	Educational option (ed. opt.) programs are designed to serve students at a range of academic levels. Some schools may choose to rank some applicants based on their academic record or other criteria. Offers are made based on randomly assigned numbers, and some offers are made based on ranking numbers for programs that rank applicants. If a program also uses admissions priorities, all qualifying applicants

For screened: language & academics programs only, schools also use academic records to rank and make offers to qualifying students in order by their priority groups and ranked numbers.
→ Transfer	Make sure that you meet the program's age and academic requirements.	Schools use a student's date of birth to verify eligibility and make offers.
Zoned	Check your home address to see if you live in the zone.	Students who live in the school's zone have a guarantee or priority to attend. Offers are made to applicants who live in the school's zone.
Open	Just list this program on your application.	Offers are made to students in order by their priority groups and randomly assigned numbers.

A school with multiple programs may have programs with different admissions methods, as in the following example:

There are two broader types of admissions methods—those that don't screen applicants and those that do.

Programs That Don't Screen Applicants: Open, Educational Option

As part of the high school admissions process, every applicant is assigned a random number, as in a lottery. Programs with open and educational option admissions methods use students' randomly assigned numbers, and may also use admissions priorities, to make offers. At many programs, when there are more applicants than seats, applicants are admitted in order by their randomly assigned numbers. If the program also uses admissions priorities, all applicants from the first priority group for a program are admitted before any applicants from the second priority group, regardless of their randomly assigned numbers. Use the graphic in Section 4.0 to see (at a glance) how offers to open programs get made.

For more information on how offers are made to programs using admissions priorities and randomly assigned numbers, watch the video "How Students Get Offers to New York City Public Schools" at schools.nyc.gov/High.

Programs That Screen and Rank Applicants: Screened, Audition

Screened and audition programs evaluate applicants for admission based on the program's selection criteria, and they assign a ranking number to applicants based on that evaluation, starting with the top-ranked applicant as #1. Ranked applicants receive offers in ranking number order.

• If the program also has admissions priorities, offers are made to ranked applicants in priority group order.

• A program's selection criteria may include academic records, interviews, auditions, and more to evaluate and rank students. See the graphic in Section 4.0 to see at a glance how offers to screened programs get made.

Tip

For a more detailed look at how offers are made to screened and audition programs, watch the video "Middle and High School Admissions: How Students Get Offers to Screened Schools and the Specialized High Schools" at schools.nyc.gov/High.

4.5 Selection Criteria

Programs that have a screened or audition admissions method, or sometimes an educational option admissions method, evaluate applicants based on specific selection criteria. Look up a program's selection criteria ranges on its MySchools directory page to learn if that program will evaluate you based on last year's course grades and/or standardized test scores (ELA and math), and if they require additional assessments such as an interview, essay, portfolio, or on-site assessment (including an audition). The selection criteria that a program uses to evaluate applicants and the way the program explains these criteria is called a rubric. Student information is then applied to the rubric to determine a ranking order. Note that different programs use different selection criteria and have different rubrics.

Your Chances—Academic Record

The ranges shown in a screened or audition program's selection criteria refer to the actual ranges of grades, and test scores from eighth grade general education students who got offers to this program last year. For example, a program's range for social studies course grades might be 78–100. The ranges may vary from year to year depending on applicants.

- If your academic record from last year is on the high end of a program's selection criteria ranges, then you may have a higher chance of getting an offer. Your chances still depend on the program's demand and priority groups.
- If your academic record from last year is in the middle of a program's selection criteria ranges, then you may have an average chance of getting an offer. Your chances still depend on the program's demand and priority groups.
- If your academic record from last year is on the low end or below a program's selection criteria ranges, then you may have a lower chance of getting an offer. Your chances still depend on the program's demand and priority groups.

The academic ranges for students with disabilities who received offers may be different and are often wider than ranges for general education students.

No Test Scores

Consistent with New York State law, New York State ELA and math test results will not be the sole, primary, or major factor in admissions decisions. Students without test scores are eligible to apply to programs with academic ranges listed in a program's selection criteria—schools have been instructed to develop policies for evaluating these students. Please reach out to schools directly to learn more about their individual policies.

Use the activity on the next page to practice determining your chances of getting an offer to programs that interest you.

4.6 Assessments and Auditions

Some programs may require you to complete additional assessments remotely or at the school.

- Audition programs may list their audition dates and times on their MySchools pages. It's a good idea to refer to a school's website to confirm the most up-to-date audition information.
- Screened programs' assessments may include an interview, portfolio, or on-site essay or exam. All of these programs must list assessments in the Selection Criteria section of their MySchools pages. Find dates, times, and deadlines for these requirements on the schools' websites.

Choose programs of interest from Section 10.0 of this guide or from MySchools. Using the strategies in this chapter, determine your chances of getting an offer to each one.

Common Audition Components

These are the shared components for each type of arts program. Additional information may be found on a school's MySchools page.

Visual Arts

Prepare and present a portfolio with 8–15 pieces of original artwork with a diversity of subject matter and use of media. Three-dimensional pieces may be photographed and included in the portfolio. Complete up to three drawing assignments at the audition. Drawing assignments may include: the human figure and drawing from observation or imagination. Check school websites for examples.

Instrumental Music

You may audition on more than one instrument. Perform a prepared solo selection. Bring your own instrument(s) except piano, tuba, double bass, harp, percussion, and guitar amplifiers, which are provided by the school. Audition includes on-site music tasks (may include singing back melodic patterns, tapping back rhythmic patterns, playing selected scales, or completing a sight reading, music theory, or improvisation task).

Vocal Music

Perform a song that you have prepared and bring the sheet music in your key. Song recommendations may also be listed on school websites. Vocal singers will also be asked to repeat vocal phrases to test rhythm, tonal memory, and basic vocal technique. Ability to incorporate directions from teacher will be considered.

Dance

Participate in both a ballet class and a modern dance class. Applicants must wear ballet shoes and fitted dance attire. Refer to a school's directory page or website to see if a prepared solo is necessary.

Drama

Perform two memorized contrasting monologues (one minute each), for example, dramatic/comedic, classical/contemporary, or theater/film. Choose characters close to your age and decide who your characters are talking to and why. Perform an on-demand dramatic or movement activity (e.g. impromptu reading from provided script or improvisation). Wear attire that allows free movement.

Musical Theater

Prepare to audition in all three areas: drama, dance, and vocal music.

- Drama: Students will perform a one-minute monologue from memory. The monologue should be from a published script. Choose characters close to your age and decide who your characters are talking to and why. Refer to school websites for recommended monologues.
- Dance: Students should be prepared to demonstrate a modern dance or jazz combination prepared by the dance faculty. Please wear jazz shoes, ballet shoes, or bare feet and fitted dance attire.
- Vocal Music: Students should be prepared to sing 16 bars of a memorized Broadway song. Choose a song performed by a character close to your age. Please bring sheet music in your key for an accompanist.

Film

Portfolio including two storyboards (each a minimum of ten frames each) depicting a scene from imagination and a 250-word essay describing your interest in filmmaking. At the audition, students will be given a description of a short action and will be asked to draw a storyboard on the spot. Optional: Submit a sample of any film or films you have participated in. Films should be submitted on a USB thumb drive, in .mov or .mp4 format. Describe your role in the making of the film in an accompanying written statement.

Register to Test

Register by October 21, 2020 to take the Specialized High Schools Admissions Test (SHSAT). Taking the test is how you apply to any/all of the eight testing Specialized High Schools:

You can register to audition or to take the SHSAT in your MySchools account or through your school counselor.

^{*} The Specialized High Schools were established under New York State Law 2590 - Section H.

Read more about the process of applying to the testing Specialized High Schools in Section 8.0. You can learn about each of these schools in Sections 10.1–10.5 of this guide and in the online high school directory in MySchools (MySchools.nyc/schools/high-school). We also encourage you to attend tours or open houses at schools of interest—learn more in Section 2.0.

Click here for the NYC Guide to the SHSAT to learn more about preparing for and taking the test. You can try practice questions and also take sample full-length tests!

6.2 Who Can Audition and Test?

All students who live in New York City and are either current eighth grade or first-time ninth grade students can apply, register, sit for, and receive results for SHS admissions. Eligible students who register by the October 21 deadline can audition and/or take the SHSAT.

6.3 Auditioning and Testing for Students with Accessibility Needs

The New York City Department of Education is committed to ensuring that our programs, services, and activities are accessible to staff, members of the school community, students, and family members with accessibility needs. We assess all of our buildings on a continuing basis to determine which schools are accessible to individuals with accessibility needs. All Specialized High School test and audition sites are accessible for students with accessibility needs. For the most up-to-date information on the accessibility of each school, please visit schools.nyc.gov/BuildingAccessibility.

6.4 Accommodations for LaGuardia High School Auditions and the SHSAT

About Testing Accommodations

The purpose of testing accommodations is to allow students with disabilities and limited English proficiency to participate in assessments on an equal basis with their peers. Testing accommodations provide the opportunity for eligible students to demonstrate mastery of skills and knowledge without being limited or unfairly restricted due to the effects of a disability or language proficiency.

Accommodations for LaGuardia High School auditions and/or the SHSAT are provided based on a student's existing testing accommodations. If applicable, these are documented on your IEP or 504 Plan and/or are based on your ELL status.

The following students are eligible to receive testing and/or audition accommodations on LaGuardia High School auditions and the SHSAT:

- Students with disabilities (SWDs) who have IEPs or 504 Plans that include existing testing accommodations
- Current English Language Learners (ELLs)
- Former ELLs who achieved proficiency on the New York State English as a Second Language Achievement Test (NYSESLAT) in 2019 and/or 2020.

Please note:

- Accommodations requested ONLY for LaGuardia High School auditions and/or the SHSAT are not allowed. Students must demonstrate a documented history of needing and using testing accommodations.
- Students with 504 Plans must have their accommodations approved every year. Schools and families must review (and approve, if appropriate) the student's 2020–2021 504 Plan no later than the last day of school in June 2020. Learn more about 504 Plans at schools.nyc.gov/504Plans.

- Some testing accommodations are not needed for LaGuardia auditions and the SHSAT. There are some accommodations that students may use on other tests that may not be needed for the SHSAT. For example, students who use a computer or other device for tests with essays will not need to use this accommodation on the SHSAT because there are no essays on the test.
- Some accommodations are not permitted for LaGuardia auditions and/or the SHSAT.

 Students with existing accommodations will receive them unless a particular accommodation interferes with the content or skill being measured by the audition or test. In such cases, no students will receive this accommodation. For example:
 - Students are not permitted to use calculators and/or math tables on the Math section of the SHSAT because this section of the test measures students' mathematical computation skills.
 - Oral interpretation and written translation of SHSAT directions, questions, and answers are not permitted because this changes the standardization of the test. (ELLs who need translations are permitted to use the bilingual math glossaries provided by the testing site on the Math section of the SHSAT only.)

Tip

Work with your school counselor to ask about testing accommodations or specific situations that may not be addressed in this guide. Any approved accommodations will appear on your audition or test ticket—learn more in Sections 7.3 and 8.3.

For English Language Learners (ELLs)

ELLs and eligible former ELLs taking the SHSAT are granted extended testing time totaling 360 minutes (2x standard testing time) as well as two 15-minute breaks after the first 180 minutes of testing. The extended time is calculated from the start time of the SHSAT, not the arrival to the testing site.

Bilingual math glossaries will also be provided on the day of the SHSAT at each test administration site in Arabic, Bengali/Bangla, Chinese (Traditional and Simplified), French, Haitian Creole, Korean, Russian, Spanish, and Urdu. Students are not permitted to bring their own bilingual math glossaries.

Tip

You can review sample bilingual glossaries at schools.nyc.gov/SHSAT.

For Students with IEPs or 504 Plans

Students with disabilities (SWDs) will be provided with the accommodations listed in their IEPs or 504 Plans unless a specific accommodation is not needed or permitted when taking the SHSAT, as detailed in the beginning of this section.

- If your IEP or 504 Plan includes the use of assistive technology such as a Frequency Modulation (FM) Unit or other aids, such as masks, markers, highlighters, pencil grip, slant board, or a magnifying glass, you must bring these with you on the day of the SHSAT and/or audition if needed. The test or audition sites will not provide these aids.
- If you have a scribe listed on your IEP or 504 Plan, it is important to discuss with your school counselor and work with your IEP or 504 Team to determine what you need on the SHSAT and to make sure the correct accommodation is listed on your IEP or 504 Plan as well as your test ticket.
 - Students who require a scribe: You will need a scribe only if you are unable to circle your answers in the test booklet. Students who require a scribe on testing day will have the test administered individually.
 - Students who do not require a scribe: If you are able to circle answers in the test booklet, you will be provided with the "Answers Recorded in the Test Booklet" accommodation. In this case, the proctor will assist you with transcribing the answers from the test booklet onto the answer sheet at the conclusion of the test.

SHSAT Administration for Students with Extended Time

All students taking the SHSAT must stay in testing rooms for the entire standard test administration time (180 minutes), with the exception of using the bathroom.

Once the standard test administration time (180 minutes) is over, students with an accommodation of extended time may leave if they have finished working on the exam. Students who decide to leave after the first 180 minutes of the standard test administration time must sign out to indicate they understood they gave up their remaining available time on the SHSAT. Students with this accommodation will have a break at the conclusion of the 180 minutes, and then again after another 90 minutes have passed. If a parent or guardian does not want their child to leave before the full amount of extended time period has ended, the parent/guardian is responsible for communicating this to their child before the test begins. Retests will not be provided to students who choose to leave before the end of their extended time.

How to Confirm or Request Testing Accommodations

During the SHSAT and audition registration period, your current DOE, charter, or non-public (private or parochial) school is responsible for entering and/or confirming the appropriate testing accommodations in MySchools.

- If you have a 504 Plan or attend a charter or non-public (private or parochial) school and have a similar school-based accommodation plan, all documentation must be submitted to the DOE for review at least three weeks before the registration deadline on October 21, 2020.
 - Documentation received after this deadline may not be reviewed in time for the student's scheduled test date.
 - Contact your current school counselor with questions about accommodations on the SHSAT.
- Non-public school students (who attend private or parochial schools) requesting accommodations during their LaGuardia auditions must work with their school counselor to enter and/or confirm accommodations. Please note that neither parents/guardians nor school staff should send accommodations directly to LaGuardia High School.
 - Accommodations must be reviewed and approved before audition tickets are available.
 - Approved accommodations for LaGuardia High School auditions must appear on students' audition tickets.
- Non-public school students with disabilities (SWDs) (who attend private or parochial schools) who do not have an IEP or 504 Plan indicating their need for testing accommodations must work with their school counselors to complete a Request for Accommodations form and submit the form and supporting documentation to the DOE for review and approval by September 30, 2020.
 - Parents/guardians can get this form from your current school.
 - Your school counselor is responsible for submitting the form by September 30, 2020. The DOE may need additional information about how your accommodations were determined and will verify the documented history and need for requested accommodations.

How to Opt Out of Accommodations

If you are an ELL and/or have an IEP or 504 Plan but your parents/guardians wish to opt out of accommodations for the SHSAT or LaGuardia High School auditions, please contact your school counselor. School counselors will work with parents/guardians to complete the Accommodations Opt-Out Form for SHSAT and LaGuardia auditions by September 30, 2020. Neither school counselors nor students may opt out of testing/audition accommodations without parent/guardian consent; written consent by a parent/guardian is required.

If it is not possible to provide written consent to opt out of testing accommodations before the registration deadline, parents/guardians must provide their written consent on the test or audition day to opt out of the testing accommodations listed on their child's ticket.

On testing or audition day, students cannot modify or opt out of the testing accommodations listed on their ticket unless parent/guardian consent has been provided in writing on the test or audition ticket.

How to Request Emergency Accommodations

Students who demonstrate disabilities or temporary impairments within 30 days of the SHSAT may request certain emergency testing accommodations, if approved by the principal of the student's current school. Emergency testing accommodations are intended for use by students whose disabilities or injuries occur after the registration deadline but before their scheduled testing/audition day and without enough time to develop an IEP or 504 Plan.

If you need emergency accommodations for the SHSAT and/or LaGuardia auditions, your family should work with a school counselor to complete the Emergency Testing Request form and ask the counselor to alert the DOE as soon as possible that emergency accommodations may be needed—this must be communicated prior to the testing day or audition day. If a family requests an accommodation without giving the DOE sufficient time to review the request before your standard SHSAT administration date or before the child's audition date, the student's test or audition may be rescheduled to ensure that your request for accommodations can be properly reviewed.

aiT

Review the New York City Department of Education's resources on testing accommodations for additional information at schools.nyc.gov/TestingAccommodations.

6.5 Diversity Initiatives for the Testing Specialized High Schools

The New York City Department of Education is working on a series of initiatives to support more equitable access to the eight testing Specialized High Schools. The goal is to increase all of the following:

- Testing rates among students in underrepresented communities
- Acceptance and offer rates among these students
- Retention of these students

Learn more about our diversity initiatives at schools.nyc.gov/DiversityAdmissions.

Discovery Program

The Discovery Program (Discovery) is a summer enrichment program for rising ninth-grade students who take the Specialized High Schools Admissions Test (SHSAT) and score just below the qualifying SHSAT score.

Eligibility

To be eligible for Discovery, students must:

- Be current eighth grade students, and
- Score within a certain range below the qualifying SHSAT score for that year—eligible scores vary from year to year and are based on seat availability, and
- Be certified as disadvantaged, and
- Be recommended by their current school as having high potential for the school's program.

You can learn more about eligibility requirements at schools.nyc.gov/SHS.

All eight testing Specialized High Schools have a Discovery Program. Applicants will be considered for Discovery programs at all Specialized High Schools they apply for.

Participation

If a student might be eligible to participate in Discovery, they will be notified in spring 2021. The next step is for the family to meet with the student's current school counselor to discuss the Discovery Program application. Not all students who are notified will be determined eligible to attend Discovery.

- Students who successfully complete the Discovery program requirements will then have the option to attend a Specialized High School.
- Students who do not meet the Discovery program requirements will attend the high school program where they received an offer.

SHSAT School Day Initiative

In fall 2020, eighth grade students at select middle schools will have the opportunity to take the SHSAT at their current school during the school day. By offering the SHSAT during the school day, we hope to remove barriers to weekend test participation and to increase the number of underrepresented students who take the SHSAT. The SHSAT School Day initiative also provides test preparation and family engagement activities to participating schools and students.

Ask your school counselor if your current school is participating in this initiative.

DREAM Specialized High Schools Institute

The DREAM-Specialized High Schools Institute (DREAM-SHSI)* is a Saturday and summer academic program that prepares eligible seventh-grade New York City public school students to take the Specialized High Schools Admissions Test (SHSAT) in eighth grade. Beginning in February of seventh grade, DREAM runs through the fall of eighth grade, up to the date of the SHSAT. The program offers participants exposure to rigorous coursework and test-taking strategies.

DREAM stands for determination, resiliency, enthusiasm, ambition, and motivation—learn more at schools.nyc.gov/DreamProgram.

Eligibility

To be eligible for DREAM, students must:

- Meet academic criteria; and
- Meet federal income guidelines; OR
- Attend school in a district under-represented in the Specialized High Schools.

Participation

If a student is eligible to participate in DREAM, they will be notified to apply in the fall of their seventh-grade year. Accepted students must commit to participate in the entire program.

7.0 AUDITION FOR FIORELLO H. LAGUARDIA HIGH SCHOOL

Fiorello H. LaGuardia High School of Music & Art and Performing Arts LaGuardia High School has a separate admissions process. - On the date of each scheduled audition, be sure to bring your ticket! You will need separate audition tickets to enter each audition.

7.5 Be Sure Your Academic Record Is Accurate in MySchools

Your academic record from the previous school year must be entered into MySchools by December 2020 to be considered for admission to LaGuardia High School.

- For NYCDOE public school students who attended a public school the previous year, your academic record will be automatically entered into MySchools.
- For students who attend a charter school or a non-public school (private or parochial), you can work with your current school or visit a Family Welcome Center to enter your academic record from the previous year into MySchools.

Students will not be re-evaluated based on any subsequent improved academic performance or based on academic records received past the deadline.

7.6 Prepare for Your Audition

Students are evaluated for LaGuardia High School auditions based on the following:

- Preparation for the audition
- Technical proficiency
- Artistic expression

Most students who receive an offer to one or more of the programs typically score between 80–100 points on the program rubric and have a satisfactory academic record. The rubric is available on LaGuardia High School's website, laguardiahs.org. Here is an overview of the audition process for each LaGuardia High School program.

Dance

Be familiar with the format of both ballet and modern dance class. You may find it helpful to take open dance classes at dance schools or programs. On the day of the audition wear ballet shoes and fitted black dance attire. You will participate in two classes: (1) ballet and (2) modern.

Drama

Prepare two contrasting one- to two-minute monologues. These monologues should be memorized and age appropriate. A list of suggested monologues can be found in the AUDITION section of LaGuardia High School's website, laguardiahs.org. Your monologue does not have to be on the list.

On the day of the audition wear attire that allows for free movement. You may be asked to participate in a group warm up. You will perform the two prepared monologues. Adjudicators may ask you to stop your performance prior to the end of the monologue. You may also be asked to complete a re-direct, an improvisational exercise, or a cold reading.

Fine Arts

Prepare a portfolio of 8–15 pieces of original art in a variety of media. The artworks should be from observation, imagination, and memory, and labeled appropriately. Two to three photographs of 3-D work may be included. You may find it helpful to practice the drawing prompts in 20 minute segments. All drawing materials for the audition will be supplied by the school at the audition.

On the day of the audition your portfolio will be scored while you complete the live audition. You will complete three drawing assignments: (1) drawing a human figure from observation; (2) drawing a still life from memory; and (3) drawing in color from imagination.

Instrumental Music

Prepare a solo selection to perform without accompaniment. The selection can be from any genre or style of music and should demonstrate your current level of proficiency. You may find it helpful to practice sight-reading.

On the day of the audition bring your own instrument(s) to the audition, except those auditioning on piano, percussion, tuba, double bass, or harp. Amplifiers also will be provided at the audition for electric instruments. Bring one copy of your solo selection. You will perform the prepared selection without accompaniment. You may be asked to: (1) sing back melodic patterns; (2) tap back rhythmic patterns; (3) demonstrate the ability to sight-read music; and (4) perform scales from memory

Technical Theater

Construct a 3-D model illustrating your original design of a stage setting for one of the following plays: Dracula, a Play by Steven Dietz (1996); A Raisin in the Sun by Lorraine Hansberry; or The Crucible by Arthur Miller. Models are to be the size of a shoe box or larger and be able to be carried by you.

You will bring your model and discuss your design choices. You will be asked to replicate multiple-step processes in sound and lighting assembly.

Vocal Music

Prepare a song to sing without accompaniment. The selection can be from any genre or style and should demonstrate your current level of proficiency. A list of suggested songs can be found in the AUDITION section of LaGuardia High School's website, laguardiahs.org. Your song does not have to be on the list.

You will perform the prepared selection without accompaniment. You will be asked to: (1) sing back melodic patterns; and (2) tap back rhythmic patterns.

All of the LaGuardia programs (except for Technical Theater) use common audition components. This means that when you prepare for your LaGuardia audition, you'll be ready to audition for other arts programs that use common components, too. Learn more in Section 4.7.

7.7 Attend Your Audition

What to Bring

- Your audition ticket—you will need to present it to enter each audition
- A light snack and/or water
- A pen or pencil
- Anything else a specific audition requires—see Section 7.6

Audition Day Expectations

Be sure to arrive promptly at LaGuardia High School by the time listed on your audition ticket to be checked in. You must arrive on time for your audition(s). The arrival time on your ticket will not be the actual start time of the audition.

Family Waiting Area

There will be a designated waiting area for families, as audition areas are for student applicants only. Family members or guardians may choose to stay in the waiting area or leave and re-enter the school building at any time.

Tip

Be sure that you have whatever you need (water, food, any communications to/from your families) before the beginning of the audition process.

Statement of Residency

Prior to the audition, you will be asked to read and sign a statement indicating that you are a New York City resident and that you are well enough to audition. Students who sign this statement but do not meet the requirements specified will be disqualified from admission to LaGuardia High School.

Audition Security

Before your audition, site staff may take a photograph or video of the students in each audition room. These images will be used for security purposes only.

TAKE THE SPECIALIZED HIGH SCHOOLS ADMISSIONS TEST (SHSAT)

The testing Specialized High Schools use a separate admissions process. To apply for any/all of these schools, first register to take the Specialized High Schools Admissions Test (SHSAT) by the October 21, 2020 deadline. Registered students will then be assigned test dates. For these schools, taking the test is how you apply.

- The Bronx High School of Science
- The Brooklyn Latin School
- Brooklyn Technical High School
- High School for Mathematics, Science and Engineering at City College
- High School of American Studies at Lehman College
- Queens High School for the Sciences at York College
- Staten Island Technical High School
- Stuyvesant High School

Unlike LaGuardia High School, these Specialized High Schools will not see students' academic records or use them to make offers. Offers to the testing Specialized High Schools are based on three factors:

- Students' SHSAT scores
- The preference order of the testing schools students list on their answer sheets
- Seat availability at each school

Tip

If Fiorello H. LaGuardia High School of Music & Art and Performing Arts is the only Specialized High School you're interested in. you don't have to take the Specialized High School Admissions Test. Your audition is how you apply!

Approximately 28,000 eighth-grade students took the SHSAT for the 2020–2021 school year, and approximately 4,300 of these students received an offer to a testing Specialized High School.

In this Guide: Find out how many students applied to each testing Specialized High School last year in Sections 10.1–10.5 of this guide. The Applicants column shows how many students applied, and the Seats column shows the number of available seats last year. The Applicants Per Seat column helps show demand; the higher that number, the more in-demand that school was last year.

In MySchools: This information is also available online in the Demand Last Year section of each school's High School Directory page.

Tip -

To learn more about how offers are made to the testing Specialized High Schools, watch the video How Students Get Offers to Screened Schools and the Specialized High Schools at schools.nyc.gov/High.

• If you are ill or injured and unable to take the test on a scheduled date, immediately notify your school counselor when you return to school and request a make-up testing date. You must provide documentation explaining that you were sick or injured and unable to test. Give this documentation to your school counselor before the deadline to request a make-up test.

Starting in November, your school counselor can help you request a make-up test or audition. School counselors will be notified when they can begin submitting make-up requests.

If you are an ELL student an eligible former ELL student (within the previous two years), or have existing testing accommodations as indicated on your current IEP or 504 plan, your approved accommodations will appear on your test ticket.

- Check your ticket carefully to be sure any accommodations are listed correctly. If the accommodations are missing from the ticket or are incorrect, alert your school counselor immediately.

- You and your parents or guardians should review the test ticket and discuss which accommodations may not be helpful for you, and what you should do if you wish to leave before the end of the extended time period. (If you are eligible for extended time.)
- The test will be administered according to the test ticket; if there are accommodations listed that your parents/guardians do not want you to use, follow the directions on the test ticket to provide written consent for you not to use the accommodation. See Section 6.4 for more details.

8.5 List Your School Choices on Your Test Ticket

Be sure to talk to your family and school counselor about which testing Specialized High Schools you'd like to attend and in what order of preference. Each student will be considered for admission only for the schools listed on their answer sheet. You may choose to list only one school on your answer sheet, or you may list all eight schools.

Before your test date, indicate the schools you want to apply to on your test ticket by bubbling in your school choices on your test ticket, listing your first choice as #1, your second as #2, and so on, as in this example.

On the day of the test, you'll be asked to list these choices on your SHSAT answer sheet in preference order; this will be the only opportunity for you to indicate your choices. If you already have your final choices listed in preference order on your test ticket, you can easily copy them onto your answer sheet: You will have a better chance of receiving an offer if you list more schools on your answer sheet.

Sites will make every effort to confirm your registration so that you will be allowed to test, but students without tickets may need to be rescheduled for another date. Even if you forget your test ticket, you should still go to the test site.

11.0 SCHOOLS OFFERING D75 INCLUSIVE SERVICES

CONTACT SCHOOLS DIRECTLY TO LEARN MORE ABOUT ADMISSIONS

District 75 Special Education Inclusive Services are offered in some District 1-32 high schools. Students with disabilities are recommended to receive special education services based on their IEP mandates. Students who are mandated to receive Special Education Inclusive Services from District 75 participate in the general education curriculum at a District 1-32 school. Students learn in age-appropriate general education classes, receive instruction from a general education teacher, and participate in school programs with students with and without disabilities. District 75 Inclusive Services are not offered in every District 1-32 high school; below is a list of the high schools with these services. Students have to be recommended to receive these services on their IEPs for them to be matched to the programs at these high schools.

For more information regarding these services and school related questions, please email us at D75info@schools.nyc.gov.

13.0 TRANSFER SCHOOLS

Transfer schools are academically rigorous high schools designed to serve students who, based on their grade or age, are significantly off track to accumulate sufficient academic credits to meet high school graduation requirements. A key feature of the admissions process is the student's agency to commit to reengaging in school and earning a high school diploma, with a path to college and career access. The goal of streamlining the enrollment process for students and families is to maintain strength-based admissions practices and establish a system for referrals that increases the number of appropriate matches.

Some transfer schools are part of the high school admissions process. These are indicated with an asterisk (*) below. Families can apply directly to these schools online at MySchools.nyc during the admissions process. Families can also visit a Family Welcome Center, visit a Referral Center, or speak with their current school counselor. To find your nearest Family Welcome Center, please visit schools.nyc.gov/WelcomeCenters. To find your nearest Referral Center, please visit p2g.nyc/enroll.

For more information regarding transfer schools, please reach out to the Transfer School Office at transferhighschools@schools.nyc.gov.
